OFFICIAL PAPER OF CITY AND CO

NAPOLEON, OHIO, JUNE 14, 1894.

Democratic Judicial Convention.

The Democrats of the Third Judicial Circuit of Ohio will meet in convention at Lima, Ohio, on Thursday, June 14, 1894, at 11 o'clock A. M., to get in nomination a candidate for Judge of said judicial circuit to be voted for at the next general election, and to transact such other business as may come before the convention. The basis of representation in said circuit convention will be one to every one hundred votes cast for Grover Cleveland for President at the November election of 1892, and one vote for every fraction of fifty votes or ever. No mass deleg tions admitted. The above apportionment gives the constitute comprising the circuit the following representation in the convention:

during my incumbency.

In this comparison of receipts and expenditures I was obliged to compare and combine, add and subtract many different numbers in order to arrive at the correct conclusion as to the condition of the several funds compared at the close of business September 1st, 1891, and in dealing with the many numbers involved, and not reviewing the work, human like, I erred in two instances and two only, viz: In the first table of my last statement I should have begun in the County Fund with $17,804.50 instead of $21,152.52, and in the second table in the column headed—Mr. Russell's last statement, in the Soldiers' Relief Fund—I should have used $264,69 in-stead of $337.86. I make these cor-rections cheerfully and not grudgingy as the corrections in connection with Mr. Russell's reply are in my

Mr. Russell might have corrected these errors with as few words as I have by referring his readers to a former statement of mine published in the Signal March 28th, and in the NORTHWEST March 22d, in which I gave the over-drafts in these funds as herein corrected, and I stand ready to defend every statement I have nade in this controversy, only reservormer publication that they are erors, pure and without intent to mishis space in the Siynal in trying to create the impression that great in-justice has been inflicted upon him in consequence of these errors, and that I am not entitled to the confidence of the people on account of incompetency or a desire to deceive, or both, and had it not been for the errors which he magnifies from molehills of innocency into mountains of dupliciity and chicanery. I confess that I am at a loss to know, after giving him due credit for sagacity and craftiness what course he would have taken in the defence of low levies which produced collections below expendiires, and caused the tax payers of Henry county on the 1st day of Sep-tember, 1891, to be confronted with a taxpayers for the public spirit shown in the prompt payment of taxes, be it said, that all of this floating debt has been paid and $20,000 of the bonded debt, all of which can be paid with-out increase in the levy by July, 1902. Mr. Russell during all this controersy has assumed the position that low levies were in no sense responsi ble for the deficiency in the active funds at the close of his administration, and in order to prove to the peo platform that declares for the free ple that my last statement is not true ple that my last stat tired funds, viz: the Napoleon River Bridge Fund and County Road Fund and the Pilliod Tax Receipt Account which never was in any sense a fund, but in order to retrieve himself from the position in which his defense of low levies has placed him he attempt to unload the burden of deficiency on his predecessor. Charles Evers, but this attempt at chicanery is too ap-parent to escape the notice even of one as prone to err as he charges me Instead of Mr. Evers leaving him a deficit in these county matters as he denominates them of $4669.66, Mr. Evers left him a surplus or bal-ance of $4752.47, as the following statement will show, to wit: In June, 1888, three months before Mr. Russell assumed the responsible duties incum bent upon an Auditor, the Commis sioners levied a tax of 1.4 tenth mills for the Napoleon river bridge fund for the double purpose of paying all indebtedness of that fund and closing it up for all future time. This levy of 1.4 tenth mills produced a net collection of $8592.19 which paid all indebt edness and left a balance of $4187.85. which Mr. Russell transferred into the County Bridge fund, but he was very careful not to mention that fact when he asserted that Mr. Evers left him a deficit of $4404.34 in the Napoleon deficit of $4404.34 in the Napoleon River Bridge fund. The difference between having a debt of $4404.34 to pay with $4187.85 more money on hand to pay the debt than is needed and not having any means provided for its payment is immense, and Mr. Russell knows a good thing when he sees it, and that accounts for his magnanimity in acknowledging the balance on hand in the County Road fund of the modest sum of $564.62 he meant to be fair and just to his predecessor. The County Road fund was all expended during his term of office and on the 1st day of Sep tember, 1891, that fund was overdrawn $64.41, so that after offsetting my errors against his, he is worse off in the comparison of receipts and expenditures in the sum of $441.49 than my last statement de-clared him to be, and instead of saying that Mr. Evers left him $25,171.78 above all floating indebtedness I should have said that Mr. Evers left him $25,613.47 above all floating in-

It will be seen by inspecting the above statement that each one of these townships is endebted to Henry county for overdrafts in these Road Improvements, and Mr. Russell as-serts that there is no lawful way to enforce the collection of this indebtness from the townships which aggregates $12,320.18, and after deducting the full amount on hand of $872.18, these townships still owe Henry county the sum of $11,448.00, and if Henry ing the right to correct all mistakes made in compiling the same. THE ORIGIN OF FIRE.

Started by a Whale, According to the South The South Sea islanders tell a curious story of the origin of fire. If they are to be believed, they came into pe of that useful element in the following manner: A great whale was once washed ashore upon one of their islands during the prevalence of a terrible hurricane. The monster became entangled in a grove of tallow trees (a species of evergreens whose branches easily ignite), and while gnashing his teeth in his impotent rage struck off a spark which lighted the grove and consumed both trees and whale. Fires which are said to have been perpetuated since the day of the "great whale fire" may yet be seen burning in many parts of the is-

Another fire legend, believed in by the inhabitants of the islands to the north of the ones in which the "great whale fire" is preserved, is to the effect that a great air dragon (probably lightning) breathed upon a tallow tree and set its branches on fire. From the coals left from this fire they learned of its great value and have ever since used the element for domestic purposes and in their religious ceremonies. They also have a tradition that the time will come when the dragon will return for the fire fund of the modest sum of $564.62 when the dragon will return for the fire, which helped to make it appear that and that no man will be able to with stand him and save the sacred spark except he be a person born with pink eyes, fair skin and white hair. For this rea son the birth of an albino is always hailed as a good omen and his or her person guarded with jealons care, so a to preserve life to its utmost limit. Marionette mentions seeing a "fire god" or "fire guard" (albino) while on his visit to the islands who was believed to be at least 155 years old and who had always been provided for by the tribe.

Reffinesque, who made South Sea is land myths and legends a study for debtedness, and this is no fanciful picture but the facts as recorded after years, is of the opinion that the return of the dragon for his fire is symbolic of death and the flight of the spirit -St. Louis Republic.

Harriet E Hall, of Waynestown, Ind., says: "I owe my life to the Great South American Nervine. I had been in beed for five months from the effects of an exhausted stomach, indigestion, nervous prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopesof getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nervine Tonic Improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it is the best medicine in the world. I cannot recommend it too highly." Sold by D. J. Humphrey. Napocon, O.
